Statement on the Outcome of Georgia's Special Election

Austin, Texas - University Democrats would like to congratulate Karen Handel on her victory in the Georgia 6th special election and thank Jon Ossoff and all of his campaign staff for their hard work throughout this process.

In a congressional district initially believed to be firmly in the hand of Republicans, we were proud at the magnitude of democratic participation this election attracted in the last few months.

University Democrats issued the following statement:

“The eyes of all Americans were on Georgia today. With hundreds of new voters registered and support streaming into Ossoff’s campaign from all corners of our country, this special election is not a loss. It is just the beginning of a larger movement, one that will require all our strength, and that will take us through the next election cycle.

“We urge our democratic allies not to let this upset curb your determination and fortitude. Let this election serve as a rallying cry. Let this election serve as a line in the sand for Democrats as we move forward”
